Kansas Agri-Women Creed

*I am an American,
I am concerned about this nation and its agriculture.
I am part of a team that feeds and clothes the people of our country, and the world. This is my country and my business and I believe both are the best to be found.*

Kansas Agri-Women

Kansas Agri-Women (KAW) is a non-partisan, public interest organization. It was formed by a group of farm women in 1973.

Those women were concerned about a threatened meat boycott and a bill before Congress which would have rolled farm prices back.

American Agri-Women

Kansas Agri-Women is an affiliate of American Agri-Women (AAW) and as such supports the policies and positions of AAW.

Agri-Women is a national coalition of groups interested and involved in agriculture.
